There is a variety of bonnets, consisting more in the shape than in the materials or mode of trimming, and ten or twelve distinct shapes have been introduced. A white chip, with a delicate pink flower in front, is a layorite. The lower part of the crown is in small points, falling over the chignon, each of these points having a crystal pendant attached. A Marie Antoinette shape is of white croppe the crown This region, at all times interesting to the man of science, is now charming to the common cyc. The people of this District should not elect Gov. Jacob to Congress. He is honest and worthy and able, but he is in a false position. He is doing injury and not good. His efforts, nneonsciously no doubt to himself, tend to the subversion of conservatism by the division of the conervative party. He can take no vote from the Radical party, but he can and will receive the votes of some, who, but for his being a candidate, would support the candidate of the Democracy. He is doing no good to conservatism, no good to his Third party, no good to himself, no good to any but the Radicals. He ertainly means to help the right, but as ertainly he docsn't. The Radicals would grieved, annoyed, disappointed, vexed, if he were to retire from the race for Cor gress to-day. They would feel as if they

Under your fect at every step fiint pebbles are felt, rounded by the rolling tide, and millions are seen in the face of the cliffs, standing out in bold relief which, were once bold relief, which were once detached, but now firmly cemented in sand, through the influence of time, called conglomerate or pudding stone. All around ou are seen marine organic remains, and coings that once had life as certainly as beings that once had life as certainly as you and I uow have, are here sleeping in their rocky tombs of eternal ages. Time! O Time! that clinging blight of life and of all our joys, is fast deriting you and I and all on earsh to oblivion, and changing the face of this world. Nor marvel not at this, or when I say that another world in form and in all its products will take the place of this, tor astrouomical observation shows that worlds go out and worlds come into existence. We find the remains of millions of animals, and some of huge proportions, whose races are now extinct, proportions, whose races are now extinct, while whole forests of immense growth are now buried beneath the mountain's LETTER FROM MEMPHIS—ADVERTISING, beavy crush, and being by time transformed into stone-coal. But this moralizing is carrying us far beyond the present, and in returning we see that this location has been exceedingly fertile in the ancient florals. Petrified limbs of fern trees are picked up everywhere, and in the heart of the largest cks which have been blasted, in making roads down the mountain, you find por-tions of the same tree, not that it grew there, but was drifted in, as our present trees are in mud and sand, and that time, of which we so much speak, has converted the sand and pebble into solid rock.

THE LOUISVILLE JOURNAL.

The Journal's political character and standing are known everywhere and to all intelligent and well informed persons. It is universally recognized as one of the institutions of Louisville, Kentucky, and the United States. Acknowledged as one State and Union for near forty years, it its energies and exerted its influence to advance what it honestly conceived to be the best interests of the whole people. It has been uniformly consistent and earnest in its advocacy of those principles which would in its opinion secure to all the blessings of peace, prosperity, and a Constitutional Union, and in its efforts it has recognized no distinction of country, thereby incurring the disappromately winning the favorable verdict and the applanse of all. No paper in the in Leon three hundred deaths occurred in country has ministered less to sectional feeling. In all its views, it has been broad, literal, and catholic.

The Constitution of our Fathers, unperverted and undistorted by selfish politicians and pestilent demagogues, has that of the nation's destiny, and by its calm, majestic, and sacred light we shall continue to be guided through all the calms and storms that may be before us. our first, our last, and our only efforts will be given to the maintenance of the Constitution, the laws made in pursuance of it, the good order of society, and the equal rights and privileges of the entire people interest of the Republic. If we have failed to instil such principles into the minds and hearts of our readers, we regret the failpre, and trust that our future endeavors may be more fortunate.

It is not, at this period in the history of the Journal, deemed necessary to speak in Tabiti mails, bas arrived. This is the terms of enlogy of it. The infinence it has exerted, its recognized position, and its tens of thousands of readers, all speak for it better than any words of ours could. Believing that the people appreciate the work we are performing, we are confident that our appeal to the numerous friends of the Journal to exert themselves to increase its subscription and thereby extend its influence will not be unheeded

The parties snpposed to have been engaged in this robbery came down the Missouri river in a skiff, ostensibly from the mountains. They inquired of citizens if there was any house that bonght gold dust, etc. They approached the door of Messrs. Plunkett & Applegate while the proprietors were absent, and examined the premiscs. They were also in the blacksmith's shop, whose sledge-hammer was found on last Sunday morning in the bank. They inquired the nearest point to where the telegraph line was working, and made other suspicious inquiries. There is scarcely a doubt but they are the men who committed the robbery. The same science. An experiment was tried with the head with a very interesting result. They injected into its arteries fresh arte-rial blood, taken from a dog, and shortly afterward the head gave unmistakabl argue of life. The color returned to the checks and lips, the eye opened brightly and gazed upon those around, the lips moved as if attempting vainly to speak, and the entire face bore the semblance to he appearance of death rapidly succeedd. It was earnestly held by the eminent ungical gentlemen in attendance, that uring the operation the brain was in full who committed the robbery. On last Saturday night the deposit bank of Messrs. Plunkett & Applegate was entered and robbed of about $2.300 in notes, gold, and silver, and five thousand postage stamps. The robbers effected an entrance into the bnilding by prying open the lock of the outer door by means of the lever wedge. The large iron door of the vault was then opened in the same manner. was then opened in the same manner. In this want there was a heavy safe, seenrely locked, and supposed to be impervious to burglars' tools. The heavy iron door of the safe was then bored through, and by inserting the hand through the opening it was easily unlocked. Private papers of mile value were scattered over the floor of the vault, envelopes were torn open, and, when found they did not contain money, were left behind. The perpetrators were evidently professionals in the business, as their tools which they left behind will show. The next morning a heavy iron wedge, an ingenious boring machine, and several nearly planned wedges, were found in the office.
